GLOSSARY

Multifunds

Multi-manager investment strategy that is a pooled investment fund investing in other types of funds. In other words, its portfolio contains underlying portfolios of other funds. These holdings replace any direct investment in bonds, stocks, and other types of securities.

Aggregate Fixed Income

The Aggregate Fixed Income bucket includes Treasury, government-related, corporate and securitised fixed-rate bonds from both developed and emerging market issuers.

Derivatives

Derivatives are financial instruments whose prices depend on the price movements in a reference variable known as the underlying. Underlying assets can be shares, equity indices, government bonds, currencies, interest rates, commodities like wheat and gold, or swaps. Derivative financial instruments may be unconditional forward transactions or they may be options. They are traded either on futures and options exchanges on standardised terms, or over the counter (OTC) on freely negotiated terms. Under certain circumstances changes in the price of the underlying can lead to considerably higher price fluctuations in the derivative. Derivatives can be used to hedge against financial risks, to speculate on price changes (trading), or to take advantage of price differences between markets (arbitrage).

Thematic Fixed Income

The Thematic Fixed Income bucket expresses the team's views on specific segments of the fixed income market and can be very different from traditional fixed income indices.

Absolute Return Fixed Income

The Absolute Return Fixed Income bucket aims at generating returns with a low correlation to the broad fixed income market.
