SPECIFIC RISKS

- ◆ Operational Risk: The Fund and its assets may experience material losses as a result of technology/system failures, human error, policy breaches, and/or incorrect valuation of units.
- ◆ Liquidity Risk: The Fund can from time to time be invested in financial instruments that may have low levels of liquidity.
- ◆ Currency Risk: The Fund has exposure to securities that are issued in currencies other than the base currency of the Fund. The Fund is therefore subject to currency risk, which arises from changes in exchange rates. The Fund will attempt to hedge against exchange rate risk in nonUSD denominated classes, however there is no guarantee that such attempts at hedging will be successful.
- ◆ Derivative and Counterparty Risk: The Fund may enter into various financial contracts (derivatives) with other parties. There is a risk that the other party to a derivative will become insolvent or fail to make its payments which may result in the Fund and the investment suffering a loss. Investments in a derivative will not necessarily generate the same return as a direct investment in the underlying asset on which the derivative is based.
- ◆ Sustainability Risk: Sustainability risk means an environmental, social or governance event or condition that, if it occurs may have a material negative impact on the value of the investment. This could cause the Fund to avoid or sell stocks that otherwise meet the financial criteria in the Fund's investment policy
- ◆ For more information on risks, please see the section entitled "Risk Factors" in the Prospectus of the Company and the section entitled "Risk Factors" in the Supplement for the Fund.

ABOUT THE FUND

The investment objective of the Fund is to seek to achieve consistent, positive absolute returns over a market cycle, typically a three to four year period, with moderate correlation to global public equity markets while reducing the market risk of the portfolio through targeted short exposure and tactical hedging.

The Fund is actively managed and not with reference to a benchmark. In order to achieve its investment objective, the Fund may invest in U.S. and non-U.S. equity instruments i.e. common stocks, preferred stocks, American Depositary Receipts (ADRs) or Global Depositary Receipts (GDRs), warrants, listed or over-the-counter (OTC) options, equity swaps, index swaps, basket swaps, total return swaps and FX forward contracts. Synthetic short positions related to equity instruments will be achieved through using exchange traded, OTC cleared or bilateral financial derivative instruments (FDIs). Synthetic short positions are positions which are in economic terms equivalent to short positions. The fund will not invest more than 10% in securities which are not listed, traded or dealt in on permitted markets.

GLOSSARY

Benchmark

Index used as basis for measuring the performance of an investment fund. Also called reference index or comparison index.

Derivatives

Derivatives are financial instruments whose prices depend on the price movements in a reference variable, known as the underlying. Underlying assets may be shares, equity indices, government bonds, currencies, interest rates, commodities like wheat and gold, or also swaps. Derivative financial instruments may be unconditional forward transactions or they may be options. They are traded either on futures and options exchanges on standardised terms, or over-the-counter (OTC) on freely negotiated terms. Changes in the price of the underlying lead in certain situations to considerably higher price fluctuations in the derivative. Derivatives can be used to hedge against financial risks, to speculate on price changes (trading) or to take advantage of price differences between markets (arbitrage).

Duration

Duration is the average time to payout. This key figure is used to measure the influence of interest rate movements on the price of a bond or bond fund. Duration is defined in years (e. g. 3-year duration means that the value of a bond would increase by 3% if interest rates fall by 1% and vice versa).

High-yield bond

Bonds with high interest rates and high risk exposure. The issuers of such securities are often companies with a low credit rating.

High-yield fund

A fund for high-yield bonds (i.e. bonds with low credit ratings).

Investment grade

A rating provides information about the creditworthiness of a debtor. The higher the rating, the less likely the debtor is to default. A distinction is made between high-quality (investment grade) and speculative bonds (high-yield or junk bonds). For investment-grade bonds, Standard & Poor's issues ratings from AAA to BBB, while Moody's ratings range from Aaa to Baa.

Credit default swap (CDS)

A credit default swap (CDS) is a kind of insurance against the risk of credit default. Upon conclusion of a credit default swap agreement, the protection seller pledges himself to pay compensation to the protection buyer if a specified credit event occurs (eg default or late payment). In return, the protection seller receives a premium. The amount of the CDS premium depends primarily on the creditworthiness of the reference debtor, the definition of the credit event and the maturity of the contract.
